USD20 million or its equivalent in the relevant share Class currency. Pacific Investment Management Company LLC ("PIMCO"), at sole discretion, is authorised to waive the minimum initial subscription, and minimum holding requirements as set forth in the current Prospectus.

Dealing Day:

In relation to a Fund such day or days as shall be specified in the relevant Supplement for that Fund provided that in any event there will be one Dealing Day per fortnight. The Directors have delegated to PIMCO the authority to change the frequency of Dealing Days per Fund. Any change in the frequency of Dealing Days must receive the prior approval of the Depositary and will be notified to shareholders of the affected Fund(s) in advance.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, it will not be a Dealing Day for any Fund where either as a result of public holidays or market/ stock exchange closures in any jurisdiction, it makes it difficult (i) to administer a Fund or (ii) value a portion of a Fund's assets. For further details on proposed Fund closures throughout the year, shareholders and prospective investors should contact the Administrator or consult the Funds Holiday Calendar (a copy of which is also available from the Administrator).

Dear Shareholder,

This semiannual report covers the six-month reporting period ended 30 June 2023 (the "reporting period"). On the subsequent pages, you will find details regarding investment results and a discussion of certain factors that affected performance during the reporting period.

Amid elevated inflation in many countries during the reporting period, the global economy faced challenges from higher interest rates, tighter credit conditions stemming from the turmoil in the banking sector (especially in the United States ("U.S.")), and geopolitical concerns. While the U.S. economy showed signs of resilience, some European economies experienced slower growth over the reporting period.

Continued central bank efforts to combat inflation

While inflation remained elevated over the reporting period, many central banks raised interest rates to rein in rising prices. The U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") raised the federal funds rate at 10 consecutive meetings, beginning in March 2022 through May 2023. In June 2023, the Fed then paused from raising rates in order to "assess additional information and its implications for monetary policy." Meanwhile, the Bank of England and European Central Bank raised interest rates for the 13th and eighth consecutive time, respectively, as of June 2023. In contrast, the Bank of Japan maintained its accommodative monetary policy stance.

Mixed financial market returns

The yield on the benchmark 10-year U.S. Treasury declined over the reporting period, while 10-year bond yields in most other developed market countries increased. The overall global credit bond market delivered positive total returns. Higher-rated global bonds underperformed lower-rated bonds. Global equities rallied, while commodity prices were volatile and produced mixed returns. The U.S. dollar weakened against the euro and the British pound, but appreciated against the Japanese yen.

Amid evolving conditions, we will continue to work diligently to navigate global markets and manage the assets that you have entrusted with us. We encourage you to speak with your financial advisor about your goals, and visit global.pimco.com for our latest insights.

Sincerely,

Craig A. Dawson Chairman

Important Information About the Funds

This material is authorised for use only when preceded or accompanied by the current PIMCO Funds: Global Investors Series plc Prospectus, Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of these Funds carefully before investing. This and other information is contained in the Prospectus. Please read the Prospectus carefully before you invest or send money.

We believe that bond funds have an important role to play in a well diversified investment portfolio. It is important to note, however, that in an environment where interest rates may trend upward, rising rates will negatively impact the performance of most bond funds, and fixed-income securities held by a Fund are likely to decrease in value. The price volatility of fixed-income securities can also increase during periods of rising interest rates, resulting in increased losses to a Fund. Bond funds and individual bonds with a longer duration (a measure of the expected life of a security) tend to be more sensitive to changes in interest rates, usually making them more volatile than securities or funds with shorter durations. The longer-term performance of most bond funds has benefited from capital gains in part resulting from an extended period of declining interest rates. In the event interest rates increase, these capital gains should not be expected to recur.

The Funds may be subject to various risks in addition to those described above, in the Funds' Prospectus and in the Financial Risks in the Notes to Financial Statements. Some of these risks may include, but are not limited to, the following: real rate risk, derivative risk, small company risk, foreign security risk, high-yield security risk, specific sector investment risks and epidemic/pandemic related risk. The Funds may use derivative instruments for hedging purposes or as part of an investment strategy. Use of these instruments may involve certain costs and risks such as liquidity risk, interest rate risk, market risk, credit risk, management risk and the risk that a Fund could not close out a position when it would be most advantageous to do so. Funds investing in derivatives could lose more than the principal amount invested in these instruments. Investing in foreign securities may entail risk due to foreign economic and political developments; this risk may be enhanced when investing in emerging markets. High-yield bonds typically have a lower credit rating than other bonds. Lower rated bonds generally involve a greater risk to principal than higher rated bonds. Smaller companies may be more volatile than larger companies and may entail more risk. Concentrating investments in individual sectors may add additional risk and volatility compared to a diversified fund.

Certain Funds may pursue an Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) investing strategy, which typically selects or excludes securities of certain issuers for reasons other than financial performance. Such strategy carries the risk that a Fund's performance will differ from similar funds that do not utilise an ESG investing strategy. For example, the application of this strategy could affect a Fund's exposure to certain sectors or types of investments, which could negatively impact a Fund's performance. There is no guarantee that the factors utilised by the Investment Advisor will reflect the opinions of any particular investor, and the factors utilised by the Investment Advisor may differ from the factors that any particular investor considers relevant in evaluating an issuer's ESG practices. Future ESG development and regulation may impact a Fund's implementation of its investment strategy. In addition, there may be cost implications arising from ESG related due diligence, increased reporting and use of third-party ESG data providers.

Classifications of Fund portfolio holdings in this report are made according to financial reporting regulations. The classification of a particular portfolio holding as shown in the Schedule of Investments sections of this report may differ from the classification used for the Fund's compliance calculations, including those used in the Fund's Prospectus, investment objectives, regulatory, and other investment limitations and policies, which may be based on different asset class, sector or geographical classifications. All Funds are separately monitored for compliance with respect to the Prospectus and regulatory requirements. Within the Schedule of Investments specific portfolio holdings may be aggregated where investments have the same attributes (i.e. coupon rates and maturity dates).

The geographical classifications of securities in this report are classified by the country of incorporation of a holding. In certain instances, a security's country of incorporation may be different from its country of economic exposure.

Certain securities and instruments in which a Fund may invest rely in some fashion upon the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). LIBOR is an average interest rate, determined by the ICE Benchmark Administration, that banks charge one another for the use of short-term money. In light of the phasing out of the use of LIBOR, relevant Funds will need to transition to another benchmark (e.g., the Secured Overnight Financing Rate, which is to replace U.S. Dollar LIBOR and measures the cost of overnight borrowings through repurchase agreement transactions collateralised with U.S. Treasury securities). Any potential effects of the transition away from LIBOR on a Fund or on certain securities and instruments in which a Fund invests can be difficult to ascertain, and they may vary depending on factors. The transition may also result in a reduction in the value of certain investments held by a Fund or a reduction in the effectiveness of related Fund transactions such as hedges. Any such effects of the transition away from LIBOR, as well as other unforeseen effects, could result in losses to a Fund.

On each individual Fund Summary page in this semiannual report, the net performance chart measures performance assuming that all dividend and capital gain distributions were reinvested. Returns do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on: (i) Fund distributions; or (ii) the redemption of Fund shares. The net performance chart measures each Fund's performance against the performance of a broad-based securities market index (benchmark index). Each Fund's past performance, before and after taxes, is not necessarily an indication of how the Fund will perform in the future. An investment in a Fund is not a deposit in a bank and is not guaranteed or insured by any government agency. The value of and income from shares in the Fund may go up or down and you may not get back the amount you have invested in the Funds.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

PIMCO Asia High Yield Bond Fund seeks maximum total return consistent with prudent investment management, by investing in a combination of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of issuers that are economically tied to Asia ex-Japan countries and related derivatives on such securities. Fixed Income Securities (as defined in the Prospectus) purchased by the Fund will be rated at least C by Moody's or equivalently by S&P or equivalently rated by Fitch (or if unrated, determined by the Investment Advisor to be of comparable quality) with the exception of mortgage-backed securities for which there is no minimum credit rating requirement.

Fund Insights

- » Credit selection within tactical non-emerging markets (EM) corporate credit contributed to relative performance.
- » Underweight U.S. duration positioning contributed to relative performance, as rates increased over the period.
- » There were no other material contributors.
- » Credit selection within the China real estate sector detracted from relative performance.
- » Underweight exposure to EM Asia sovereign credit detracted from relative performance, notably due to an underweight to Sri Lanka sovereign credit.
- » Underweight allocation to EM Asia quasi-sovereign credit detracted from relative performance.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

Asia Strategic Interest Bond Fund seeks to generate attractive and stable income. Long-term capital appreciation is a secondary objective. The Fund may invest up to 50% of its total assets in high yield Fixed Income Securities (as defined in the Prospectus). The Fund will concentrate its investments by investing at least two thirds of its total assets in Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) in Asia ex-Japan but may invest up to one third of its total assets in other Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) including those of government and corporate issuers outside Asia ex-Japan.

Fund Insights

- » Exposure to Asia ex-China/Hong Kong corporate credit contributed to absolute performance.
- » Exposure to Pakistan and Sri Lanka sovereign contributed to absolute performance.
- » Exposure to Asia quasi-sovereign contributed to absolute performance.
- » Exposure to China/Hong Kong corporate credit detracted from absolute performance, notably due to an exposure to China real estate.
- » U.S. duration exposure detracted from absolute performance as rates rose during the period.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

PIMCO Capital Securities Fund seeks to provide focused exposure to attractively priced Capital Securities (as defined in the Prospectus) together with maximum total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management, by investing in an actively managed portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) and other securities of which at least 80% will be invested in Capital Securities in accordance with the policies set out in the Fund's Supplement. The Fund promotes environmental characteristics but does not have sustainable investment as its objective.

Fund Insights

- » Exposure to and security selection within senior financials contributed to performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Security selection within Tier 2 bonds contributed to performance, as a select U.K. bank announced it would redeem their Legacy Tier 2 bonds at the next call date.
- » Exposure to AT1s issued by a Swiss bank detracted from performance, as they were written down following the acquisition by a local competitor.
- » Exposure to AT1s, and especially to U.K. banks detracted from performance, as the global bank market came under pressure amidst a crisis of confidence originating from smaller U.S. regional banks which propagated to Europe.
- » Exposure to a select non-financial subordinated hybrid issuer detracted from performance.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

PIMCO Climate Bond Fund seeks optimal risk adjusted returns, consistent with prudent investment management, while giving consideration to long term climate related risks and opportunities. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing under normal circumstances at least 80% of its total assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus), of varying maturities.

Fund Insights

- » Spread tightening and carry in investment grade credit, particularly financials, contributed to absolute performance.
- » Spread tightening and security selection in emerging market debt, particularly the utilities sector, contributed to absolute performance.
- » Long exposure to high yield corporate credit, particularly the automotive sector, contributed to absolute performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Modest long exposure to U.S. duration detracted from absolute performance, as yields rose.
- » Modest long exposure to the front-end and belly of the U.K. and European yield curves detracted from absolute performance, as yields rose.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

Commodity Real Return Fund seeks to maximise total return consistent with prudent investment management by investing in derivative instruments (which may be listed or OTC), including swap agreements, futures, options on futures and structured notes and commodity index-linked notes, which enable it to gain exposures to any of the indices and sub-indices referencing commodities (including but not limited to any index within the Bloomberg Commodity family of indices) which meet with the requirements of and have; where necessary, been cleared by the Central Bank of Ireland. Details of any indices utilised by the Fund and the types of commodities they reference will be available from the Investment Advisor upon request. These instruments will provide exposure to the investment returns of the commodities markets without investing directly in physical commodities, and will be backed by an actively managed portfolio of global Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus). The Fund may also invest in common and preferred stocks as well as convertible securities of issuers in commodity-related industries.

- » Curve positioning in U.K. breakeven inflation, specifically an overweight to the 5-year part of the curve, contributed to performance, as 5-year U.K. breakevens rose
- » Active commodity strategies, specifically underweight exposure to the natural gas sub-sector, contributed to relative performance, as the sub-sector measured by the Bloomberg Natural Gas Subindex, underperformed the broader Bloomberg Commodity Index
- » Exposure to Non-Agency mortgage backed securities contributed to relative performance, as spreads on those securities tightened
- » The structural allocation to global short-term Inflation-Linked Bonds (ILBs) as collateral backing the Fund's commodity exposure detracted from relative performance, as global short-term ILBs, as measured by the Bloomberg Barclays World Government Inflation-Linked Bond 1-5 Year Index (USD Hedged), underperformed the U.S. 3-Month Treasury Bill collateral within the commodity index
- » Underweight exposure to Japanese nominal sovereign interest rates detracted from relative performance, as Japanese nominal yields declined
- » Overweight exposure Danish covered bonds detracted from relative performance, as these securities underperformed

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

PIMCO Credit Opportunities Bond Fund seeks maximum long-term return consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by investing at least 80% of its net assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus).

- » Long exposure to investment grade credit contributed to performance, in particular exposure to issuers in the banking, real estate investment trusts, and technology sectors, as spreads on these securities tightened.
- » Long exposure to high yield credit contributed to performance, in particular exposure to issuers in the construction and entertainment sectors, as spreads on these securities tightened.
- » Long exposure to select Latin American currencies contributed to performance, as they appreciated versus the U.S. dollar.
- » Long exposure to U.S. duration detracted from performance, as U.S. yields rose.
- » Long exposure to select securitised assets detracted from performance, as spreads on these securities widened.

Dynamic Bond Fund seeks maximum long-term return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of varying maturities. The Fund may invest in both investment-grade and high yield Fixed Income Securities, subject to a maximum of 40% of assets in securities rated lower than Baa by Moody's or BBB by S&P or equivalently rated by Fitch, (or, if unrated, determined by the Investment Advisor to be of comparable quality). The Fund may invest up to 50% of its assets in Fixed Income Instruments that are economically tied to emerging market countries.

Fund Insights

- » Long exposure to Brazilian interest rates contributed to performance, as Brazilian interest rates fell.
- » Long exposure to investment grade corporate credit contributed to performance, as spreads on those securities tightened.
- » Long exposure to the Brazilian real contributed to performance, as it appreciated against the U.S. dollar.
- » Long exposure to U.S. duration detracted from performance, as U.S. interest rates rose.
- » Short exposure to Polish interest rates detracted from performance, as Polish interest rates fell.
- » Long exposure to Japanese yen detracted from performance, as it depreciated against the U.S. dollar.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

Emerging Markets Short-Term Local Currency Fund seeks maximum total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management, by investing at least 80% of its assets in currencies of, or in Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) denominated in currencies of, emerging markets. The Investment Advisor has a broad discretion to identify countries that it considers to qualify as emerging markets. The Investment Advisor will select the Fund's country and currency composition based on its evaluation of relative interest rates, inflation rates, exchange rates, monetary and fiscal policies, trade and current account balances, and other specific factors the Investment Advisor believes to be relevant. The Fund is likely to concentrate its investments in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America and the emerging countries of Europe. The Fund may invest in instruments whose return is based on the return of an emerging market security such as a derivative instrument, rather than investing directly in emerging market securities. The average portfolio duration of this Fund varies based on the Investment Advisor's forecast for interest rates and, under normal market conditions, is not expected to exceed two years. The Fund may invest all of its assets in high yield securities, subject to a maximum of 15% of its assets in securities rated lower than B by Moody's or S&P or equivalently rated by Fitch (or, if unrated, determined by the Investment Advisor to be of comparable quality).

Euro Credit Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. The Fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Euro-denominated Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of varying maturities, which may be represented by direct or indirect holdings in credit-related Fixed Income Securities (as defined in the Prospectus) or derivative instruments such as options, futures swaps or credit default swaps. The Fund promotes environmental characteristics but does not have sustainable investment as its objective.

- » Macro strategies, and in particular EUR and USD duration positioning, contributed to performance, as interest rates rose and both curves inverted further.
- » Security selection within banks and brokerage contributed to performance, as overweight exposure to the senior debt of a Swiss bank outperformed amid its acquisition by a higher-rated competitor.
- » Underweight to government related sector at the beginning of the year contributed to performance, as the sector underperformed on the back of elevated supply expectations for 2023.
- » Exposure to Danish covered bonds at the beginning of the year detracted from performance, as spreads widened.
- » Security selection within utilities detracted from performance, as overweight exposure to a select U.K. water utility underperformed, amid concerns on the financial position of the company.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

Global Advantage Fund seeks to achieve maximum long-term return, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management, by investing 80% of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) that are economically tied to at least three countries (one of which may be the United States).

- » Underweight exposure to U.S. duration contributed to relative performance, as interest rates rose.
- » Overweight exposure to senior financials contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Select exposure to EM external debt contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Underweight exposure to European peripherals, namely Italian government bonds, detracted from relative performance, as spreads versus German Bunds tightened.
- » Underweight exposure to non-financial investment grade corporates detracted from relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Overweight exposure to U.K. duration detracted from relative performance, as interest rates rose.

Global Bond Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. The Fund seeks to achieve it investment objective by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) denominated in major world currencies.

- » Underweight exposure to the front end of the U.S. yield curve contributed to relative performance, as interest rates rose.
- » Overweight exposure to senior financials contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Long exposure to securitised credit, mainly via U.S. non-agency residential mortgagebacked securities and European collateralised mortgage obligations, contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Underweight exposure to Japanese duration detracted from relative performance, as interest rates fell.
- » Long exposure to the Japanese yen detracted from relative performance, as the currency depreciated against U.S. dollar.
- » Overweight exposure to U.K. duration detracted from relative performance, as interest rates rose.

Global Bond ESG Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with the preservation of capital, prudent investment management and sustainable investing (by explicitly integrating environmental, social and governance factors into the investment process as further outlined in the Supplement). The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) denominated in major world currencies.

Fund Insights

- » Underweight exposure to the front end of the U.S. curve contributed to relative performance, as interest rates rose.
- » Overweight exposure to senior financials contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Curve positioning within the Euro Bloc, namely an underweight in the front end where interest rates rose, while overweight the 10 year where interest rates fell, contributed to relative performance.
- » Underweight exposure to Japanese duration detracted from relative performance, as interest rates fell.
- » Underweight exposure to Chinese duration detracted from relative performance, as interest rates fell.
- » Long exposure to the Japanese yen detracted from relative performance, as the currency depreciated against U.S. dollar.

PIMCO Global Core Asset Allocation Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management, by taking exposure to a wide range of asset classes, including equities, fixed income, commodities and property (as described in the Fund Supplement). The Fund can also invest in other PIMCO Funds and other collective investment schemes (in accordance with the Prospectus).

- » Exposure to select emerging markets currencies, particularly overweight exposure to the Brazilian real and Mexican peso and underweight exposure to the Chinese yuan, contributed to relative performance, as the Brazilian real and Mexican peso appreciated relative to the U.S. dollar and the Chinese yuan depreciated relative to the U.S. dollar.
- » Exposure to investment grade and high yield corporate credit, particularly overweight and security selection within financials, contributed to relative performance, as these securities posted positive returns over the period.
- » Overall underweight exposure to U.S. equities detracted from relative performance, as U.S. equities posted positive returns over the period.
- » Exposure to emerging markets equities, particularly select positioning in the consumer discretionary category within Chinese equities, detracted from performance, as these securities posted negative returns.
- » Overall underweight exposure to Eurozone equities detracted from relative performance, as Eurozone equities posted positive returns over the period.

- » An overweight to and security selection within the gaming and lodging sector contributed to performance, as the sector outperformed the broader market amid strong consumer demand for leisure and entertainment services.
- » Security selection within consumer non-cyclicals contributed to performance, as a select overweight issuer outperformed.
- » Security selection within finance and insurance detracted from performance, as exposure to subordinated debt, and in particular from a select Swiss bank, underperformed.
- » An overweight to and security selection within chemicals detracted from performance, as the sector underperformed the broader market while a select overweight issuer underperformed.
- » Security selection within media, entertainment and publishing detracted from performance, as select overweight issuers underperformed.

Global Investment Grade Credit Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with the preservation of capital and prudent investment management by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of investment grade corporate Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus).

- » Macro strategies, and in particular duration positioning in developed markets, contributed to performance.
- » An overweight to and security selection within transportation contributed to performance, as select overweight issuers outperformed amid a continued increase in travel activity.
- » Security selection within finance companies contributed to performance, as select overweight issuers outperformed the broader market.
- » Security selection within banking detracted from performance, as exposure to subordinated debt, and in particular from a select Swiss bank, underperformed.
- » Security selection within emerging markets external debt detracted from performance, as select legacy Russian positions underperformed.

Global Investment Grade Credit ESG Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital, prudent investment management and sustainable investing (by explicitly integrating environmental, social and governance factors into the investment process as further outlined in the Supplement). The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of investment grade corporate Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus).

Fund Insights

- » Security selection within emerging markets external debt contributed to performance, as overweight exposure to the ESG bonds of select sovereigns, government related entities, and corporate issuers outperformed.
- » Security selection within the automotive sector contributed to performance, as exposure to the ESG bonds of select automotive suppliers outperformed.
- » Macro strategies, and in particular duration and curve positioning in the U.S., detracted from performance.
- » Security selection within the banking sector detracted from performance, as exposure to select senior and subordinated bonds underperformed amid the broader volatility in the banking sector.
- » An overweight to real estate investment trusts detracted from performance, as the sector underperformed the broader market amid concerns over the impact of higher interest rates and tighter financial conditions.

Global Low Duration Real Return Fund seeks to maximise real return, consistent with preservation of real capital and prudent investment management, by investing at least 70% of its assets in a diversified portfolio of inflation-indexed Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of varying maturities issued by governments, their agencies or instrumentalities and corporations. Inflationindexed bonds are Fixed Income Instruments that are structured to provide protection against inflation. The Fund promotes environmental characteristics but does not have sustainable investment as its objective.

Income Fund II seeks high current income, consistent with prudent investment management, with long-term capital appreciation as a secondary objective. The Fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of varying maturities. The Fund will seek to maintain a high level of dividend income by investing in a broad array of fixed income sectors which in the Investment Advisor's view typically generate elevated levels of income.

Fund Insights

- » Long exposure to select emerging market currencies contributed to performance, as they appreciated against the U.S. dollar.
- » Long exposure to investment grade and high yield corporate credit contributed to performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Long exposure to European residential mortgage backed securities and commercial mortgage-backed securities contributed to performance, as spreads tightened.
- » Long exposure to U.S. duration detracted from performance, as U.S. interest rates rose.
- » Short exposure to Japanese duration detracted from performance, as Japanese interest rates rallied.
- » Long exposure to the Japanese yen detracted from performance, as it depreciated against the U.S. dollar.

Inflation Multi-Asset Fund (formerly Inflation Strategy Fund) seeks to preserve the real value of capital through prudent investment management. The Fund will be managed actively and will predominantly invest in a diversified portfolio of inflation-related assets. The Fund seeks to achieve its objective by investing in a combination of global inflation-related Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus), emerging market bonds and currencies, equities and equity-related securities, and commodity and property-related instruments. Exposure to such assets may be achieved through direct investment or through the use of financial derivative instruments as detailed in the Prospectus. The Fund will pursue a multi-asset-oriented investment strategy in accordance with its investment policies. The objective of the strategy is to achieve real capital preservation over time by allocating to a range of inflation-related asset classes. As part of its investment strategy, the Investment Advisor will use a global secular forecast of interest and inflation rates across economies and an integrated investment process as set out in the Prospectus.

Fund Insights

- » Tactical underweight exposure to commodities contributed to relative performance, as commodities declined.
- » Curve positioning in euro-denominated derivatives, in particular an underweight exposure in interest rate swaps at the 2-year part of the swap curve, contributed to relative performance, as swap rates rose at the 2-year part of the curve.
- » Underweight exposure to German nominal sovereign interest rates contributed to relative performance, as German nominal vields rose.
- » Underweight exposure to Japanese nominal sovereign interest rates detracted from relative performance, as Japanese nominal yields declined.
- » Security selection within real estate investment trusts detracted from relative performance.
- » Overweight exposure to the Japanese yen funded by an underweight in the U.S. dollar detracted from relative performance as yen depreciated against the U.S. dollar.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

Low Duration Opportunities ESG Fund seeks to maximise long-term return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing under normal circumstances at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments of varying maturities. The average portfolio duration of this Fund will normally vary from negative 1 year to positive 5 years based on the Investment Advisor's forecast for interest rates. The Fund seeks to promote environmental and social characteristics under normal market conditions in various ways as set out in the Fund's Supplement and seeks to invest a portion of its assets in sustainable investments.

Fund Insights

- » Long exposure to investment grade credit contributed to performance, as spreads on these securities tightened.
- » Holdings of Agency mortgage-backed securities contributed to performance, in particular towards the end of the semester, as spreads tightened in May and June.
- » Long exposure to euro duration contributed to performance, in particular curve positioning, as the European yield curve inverted further.
- » Long exposure to U.S. duration detracted from performance, as US interest rates rose.
- » Short exposure to the euro currency detracted from performance, as it appreciated versus the U.S. dollar.

Investment Objective and Strategy Overview

PIMCO MLP & Energy Infrastructure Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with prudent investment management. The "total return" sought by the Fund consists of income and capital appreciation. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing under normal circumstances at least two-thirds of its net assets either directly or indirectly in a portfolio of equity investments which are linked to (i) publicly traded partnerships, which are also known as master limited partnerships ("MLPs"), (ii) the general partners that own or manage MLPs, (iii) spin-offs (companies which separate from the MLPs or general partner after divestitures or restructuring) from MLPs, (iv) companies that are similar to MLPs by virtue of operating in the same industry or competing with MLPs (v) other entities that may not be structured as a publicly traded partnership but operate in the mid-stream energy sector (the transportation component of the energy infrastructure sector such as pipeline, rail and oil tankers) and (vi) special purpose entities (i.e., entities established for a specific purpose which may be used as an investment vehicle to gain access to investments outlined herein). The Fund may invest in these instruments either in the secondary market or during an initial public offering.

Fund Insights

- » Exposure to midstream energy equities contributed to absolute returns, as the sector generated positive returns.
- » Security selection in the gathering and processing sub-sector contributed to relative returns, as the Fund's holdings within this sector outperformed.
- » Security selection within liquefaction companies contributed to relative returns, as the Fund's holdings in the sector outperformed.
- » Underweight to marketing and distribution companies contributed to relative returns, as the sector generated negative returns.
- » Security selection in the pipeline transportation of natural gas sub-sector sector detracted from relative returns, as the Fund's holdings within this sector underperformed.
- » Underweight to the pipeline transportation of petroleum sub-sector sector detracted from relative returns, as the sub-sector outperformed and the fund's holdings in the sector underperformed.

StocksPLUS™ Fund seeks to achieve a return which exceeds the total return performance of the Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Stock Price Index ("S&P 500") by employing a proprietary portfolio management strategy, which combines an actively managed portfolio of Fixed Income Securities (as defined in the Prospectus) with an exposure to the S&P 500. The Fund may invest without limit in equity securities and securities that are convertible into equity securities.

Fund Insights

- » The Fund's exposure to equity index derivatives linked to the S&P 500 Index contributed to absolute returns, as the S&P 500 Net Total Return Index returned 16.60%.
- » The Fund's bond alpha strategy contributed to returns. Highlights about the drivers of performance include the following:
  - » Long exposure to investment grade corporate credit contributed to returns, holdings were increased and the value of these bonds increased subsequently.
  - » Holdings of non-Agency mortgage-backed securities contributed to returns, as the value of these bonds increased.
  - » Long exposure to U.S. interest rates detracted from returns, as interest rates increased.
  - » Short exposure to high yield corporate credit detracted from performance, as spreads tightened.

Total Return Bond Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management. The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing at least two-thirds of its assets in a diversified portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments (as defined in the Prospectus) of varying maturities.

- » Tactical U.S. duration positioning, particularly an overweight to the intermediate part of the yield curve contributed to relative performance, as yields fell during Q1 2023.
- » Positions in non-Agency mortgage backed securities ("MBS") and other securitised assets contributed to relative performance, particularly in Q2, as spreads tightened.
- » Selection within investment grade corporate credit, particularly a preference for financials, contributed to relative performance, as spreads tightened during Q2 2023.
- » Interest rate strategies in the Eurozone, particularly a curve steepening bias, detracted from relative performance, as the curve flattened.
- » Short exposure to duration in Japan detracted from relative performance, as yields fell.

Fund Insights

- » Security selection within the retail sector contributed to performance, as select overweight issuers outperformed on the back of improving profitability.
- » Security selection within the real estate investment trusts sector contributed to performance, as a select underweight issuer underperformed the broader market amid concerns over the impact of higher interest rates and tighter financial conditions.
- » Macro strategies, and in particular an overweight to U.K. duration detracted from performance, as interest rates sold off amid higher-than-expected inflation and increasing policy rates.
- » Security selection within the banks and brokerage sector detracted from performance, as exposure to subordinated debt, and in particular from a select Swiss bank underperformed.
- » Overweight exposure to utilities detracted from performance, as the sector underperformed.

To be eligible for Index inclusion bonds must be rated below investment grade but at least B3 based on an average of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch. Individual issuer exposure within the Index is capped at 3%. Further details on the Index, including an up-to-date description of its duration, are available from the Investment Advisor on request.

ICE BofA Merrill Lynch BB-B Rated Developed Markets High Yield Constrained Index Hedged into USD  ICE BofA Merrill Lynch BB-B Rated Developed Markets High Yield Constrained Index Hedged into USD tracks the performance of below investment grade bonds of corporate issuers domiciled in developed market countries having an investment grade foreign currency long term debt rating (based on a composite of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch). The Index includes bonds denominated in U.S. dollars, Canadian Dollars, Sterling, Euro (or Euro legacy currency), but excludes all multicurrency denominated bonds. Bonds must be rated below investment grade but at least B3 based on a composite of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch. Qualifying bonds are capitalisation-weighted provided the total allocation to an individual issuer (defined by Bloomberg tickers) does not exceed 2%. Issuers that exceed the limit are reduced to 2% and the face value of each of their bonds is adjusted on a pro-rata basis. Similarly, the face value of bonds of all other issuers that fall below the 2% cap are increased on a pro-rata basis. Prior to 25 September 2009, the ICE BofA Merrill Lynch Indices were known as the Merrill Lynch Indices.

ICE BofA Merrill Lynch Sterling Non-Gilts 10+ Index

The ICE BofA Merrill Lynch Sterling Non-Gilts 10+ Index is made up of investment grade Sterling-denominated bonds, excluding Sterling-denominated bonds issued by the British government. All bonds in the index must be rated investment grade by at least one of the major rating agencies. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

ICE BofA Merrill Lynch Sterling Non-Gilts Index

ICE BofA Merrill Lynch Sterling Non-Gilts Index tracks the performance of sterling-denominated investment grade public debt of Corporate, quasi-Government and non-UK sovereign issuers. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

ICE BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield Constrained Index

The ICE BofA Merrill Lynch US High Yield Constrained Index tracks the performance of U.S. dollar-denominated below investment grade rated corporate debt publically issued in the U.S. domestic market. To qualify for inclusion in the index, securities must have a below investment grade rating (based on an average of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch) and an investment grade rated country of risk (based on an average of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch foreign currency long term sovereign debt ratings).

ICE BofA SARON Overnight Rate Index

ICE BofA SARON Overnight Rate Index tracks the performance of a synthetic asset paying SARON to a stated maturity. The index is based on the assumed purchase at par of a synthetic instrument having exactly its stated maturity and with a coupon equal to that day's fixing rate. That issue is assumed to be sold the following business day (priced at a yield equal to the current day fixing rate) and rolled into a new instrument.

ICE BofA SOFR Overnight Rate Index

ICE BofA SOFR Overnight Rate Index tracks the performance of a synthetic asset paying SOFR to a stated maturity. The index is based on the assumed purchase at par of a synthetic instrument having exactly its stated maturity and with a coupon equal to that days fixing rate. That issue is assumed to be sold the following business day (priced at a yield equal to the current day fixing rate) and rolled into a new instrument. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

ICE BofA SONIA Overnight Rate Index

ICE BofA SONIA Overnight Rate Index tracks the performance of a synthetic asset paying SONIA to a stated maturity. The index is based on the assumed purchase at par of a synthetic instrument having exactly its stated maturity and with a coupon equal to that day's fixing rate. That issue is assumed to be sold the following business day (priced at a yield equal to the current day fixing rate) and rolled into a new instrument.

JPMorgan Asia Credit Index

The JPMorgan Asia Credit Index measures the performance of Asia ex-Japan USD-denominated bond market. Index provides a benchmark for investment opportunities in U.S. dollar-denominated fixed income instruments issued by Asia ex-Japan sovereigns, quasi-sovereigns, and corporates.

JPMorgan Corporate Emerging Markets Bond Index Diversified (CEMBI)

The JPMorgan Corporate Emerging Markets Bond Index Diversified (CEMBI) is a uniquely weighted version of the CEMBI index. It limits the weights of those index countries with larger corporate debt stocks by only including a specified portion of these countries' eligible current face amounts of debt outstanding. The CEMBI Diversified results in well-distributed, more balanced weightings for countries included in the index. The countries covered in the CEMBI Diversified are identical to those covered by the CEMBI. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

JPMorgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus (Unhedged)

JPMorgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus (Unhedged) tracks total returns for local-currency-denominated money market instruments in 22 emerging markets countries with at least US$10 billion of external trade. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

JPMorgan Emerging Markets Bond Index (EMBI) Global

JPMorgan Emerging Markets Bond Index (EMBI) Global tracks total returns for United States dollar-denominated debt instruments issued by emerging market sovereign and guasi-sovereign entities.

JPMorgan ESG Emerging Markets Bond Index (EMBI) Global Diversified  The JPMorgan ESG Emerging Markets Bond Index Global Diversified tracks total returns for United States Dollar denominated debt instruments issued by emerging market sovereign and quasi-sovereign entities incorporating environmental, social, and governance factors in the index construction.

Index Description

The JPMorgan ESG GBI-EM Global Diversified (JESG GBI-EM) tracks the performance of bonds issued by emerging market governments and denominated in the local currency of the issuer. The index applies an Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) scoring and screening methodology to tilt toward issuers ranked higher on ESG criteria and green bond issues, and to underweight or remove issuers that rank lower.

The JPMorgan Government Bond Index-Emerging Markets Global Diversified Index (Unhedged) is a comprehensive global local emerging markets index, and consists of regularly traded, liquid fixed-rate, domestic currency government bonds to which international investors can gain exposure. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

The JP Morgan Asia Credit Index (EUR Hedged) measures the performance of Asia ex Japan USD denominated bond market. Index provides a benchmark for investment opportunities in US dollar-denominated fixed income instruments issued by Asia ex-Japan sovereigns, guasi-sovereigns, and corporates.

JPMorgan JACI Non-IG comprises fixed rate U.S. dollar-denominated high yield bonds issued by Asia sovereigns, quasi-sovereigns, banks and corporates. The existing JACI Non-IG contains both fixed and floating rate bonds issued by Asia-domiciled entities having a nominal outstanding of at least US$150 million and more than one year to maturity.

The PIMCO Global Advantage Bond Index (GLADI) (London Close) is a diversified global index that covers a wide spectrum of global fixed income opportunities and sectors, from developed to emerging markets, nominal to real asset, and cash to derivative instruments. Unlike traditional indices, which are frequently comprised of bonds weighted according to their market capitalisation, GLADI uses GDP-weighting which puts an emphasis on faster-growing areas of the world and thus makes the index forward-looking in nature. PIMCO's GLADI methodology is intellectual property covered by U.S. Patent No. 8,306,892. GLOBAL ADVANTAGE and GLADI are trademarks of Pacific Investment Management Company LLC.

S&P 500 is an unmanaged market index generally considered representative of the stock market as a whole. The Index focuses on the large-cap segment of the U.S. equities market. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

This index stores the Shekel overnight Interest Rate and is equal to the Bank of Israel rate, except on days when the SHIR is not published, it's value will be what it was on the last day it was published. The Bank of Israel Rate is determined by the Bank of Israel Monetary Committee eight times a year, generally on Mondays at 16:00. The dates of the Bank of Israel interest rate's publication and application are published each year on the Bank of Israel's website. The SHIR will be published on the Bank of Israel website by 11:00 each day, except for Saturdays, Sundays, and additional dates as published on the Bank of Israel website each year, and that will be updated periodically. It is not possible to invest directly in an unmanaged index.

The Singapore Overnight Rate Average (SORA) is the volume-weighted average rate of borrowing transactions in the unsecured overnight interbank SGD cash market in Singapore.

- (1) If the Fund is a buyer of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) receive from the seller of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and deliver the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) receive a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (2) If the Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (3) The maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to pay as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement.

- (1) If the Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (2) The maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to pay as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement.
- (3) This instrument has a forward starting effective date.

- (1) If the Fund is a buyer of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) receive from the seller of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and deliver the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) receive a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (2) If the Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (3) The maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to pay as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement.
- (4) This instrument has a forward starting effective date.

- (1) If the Fund is a buyer of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) receive from the seller of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and deliver the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) receive a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (2) If the Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.
- (3) The maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to pay as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement.

<sup>(1)</sup> If the Fund is a seller of protection and a credit event occurs, as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement, the Fund will either (i) pay to the buyer of protection an amount equal to the notional amount of the swap and take delivery of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index or (ii) pay a net settlement amount in the form of cash, securities or other deliverable obligations equal to the notional amount of the swap less the recovery value of the referenced obligation or underlying securities comprising the referenced index.

- (2) The maximum potential amount the Fund could be required to pay as a seller of credit protection or receive as a buyer of credit protection if a credit event occurs as defined under the terms of that particular swap agreement.
- (3) This instrument has a forward starting effective date.
